THE CITY ATTORNEY'S OPINION in the city's bond-suits was the first business presented, and is as tollows:

MERCHIS, TENS., July 6, 1874. Honorable Mayor and City Council GENTLEMEN-Some time since you by resolution, requested me to give in writing the points and authorities upon which I expected to defend the city against what is known as the "bond suits." In the then peculiar attitude of these cases I considered it my duty to request you to rescind that resolution, which I believe was done. Since then I have made my defense in open court, and there is now no reason why I should not inform you as to what it is. It may be proper for me to state that I had nothing to do with the inception of this litigation, or the raising of the questions petbaggers, has introduced a till in the baggers, has introduced a til authority. It appears from the records that the sergeant-at-arms, C.

T. Smith, appointed judges, clerks and deputy-sheriffs to hold an election, and sia. He is one of the most prominent did open the polls in four of the ten politic sans of his State, and was three wards in the city, at which one thoutimes elected governor of it. He is a self-made man, and an ardent RepubThis election I hold to be void; first, This election 1 hold to be void; first, because the sergeant-at-arms had no power to appoint or qualify judges, clerks and sheriffs, or to hold the elections; and secondly, because the poils were not opened in all the wards as restrophobia, seven or eight cases of which tended, but a large amount were manu-factured by the city officers and sold in the market for what they would bring. Others were prepared and deposited as collateral for loans, and were forfeited or sold by the holders for non-payment of the notes for which they had been deposited as security; and for this reason I hold that the city is not bound for them. It is to be borne in mind that the city had been deposited as security; and for this reason I hold that the city is not bound for them. It is to be borne in mind that these bonds were naked promises to pay, or certificates of indebtedness. They do not show upon their face any authority for their issuance, and the authorities settle it, that all takers are therefore put upon inquiry as to their validity, and the manner of Issuing and disposing of these bonds being a matter of record, open to the inspection of everyope, no person can claim to be an innocent holder. It is, therefore, seen that as the bond does not show upon its Comptroller's warrants issued Last face the authority upon which it was is-sued, and the election being void be-cause it was not held according to law, ourse it was not held according to law, nor by any one having power to hold it; and the bondbolders being put upon in-quiry, are confronted by these defects at the first step, and have taken the bonds at their peril, and cannot recover upon them as innocent holders. Upon these defenses I make the fight. Some of the points are new, and should be presed with great care and ability. If this is done I feel quite certain that the city will sustain itself in the defense of these suits, and save to the tax-payers over one million, and probably two and a half million dollars. Desiring success, and the hearty co-operation of each of you in this vast undertaking, I am most respectfully yours, etc.
